* STILL A GENTLEMAN'S GAME: This was unusual, and unfortunate. Between rallies in the 4th game, Iker Pajares Bernabeu inadvertently whacked a practice forehand directly into Syed Azlan Amjad's family jewels. Amjad took a medical time-out, and ultimately decided that he was unable to continue. Under PSA Rules, because the injury was inflicted by his opponent - Amjad wins the match and advances to Round-2. Weird turn of events. Bizarre Wild Card upset.
